

THIS E-MAIL WAS POSTED BY CARL MICHAEL ON THE INTERNATIONAL YAHOO GROUPS SITE:

"My friends in Texas have shared with me some info about their Spring Conference in March. They've got a solid several days planned. And it's in Austin [hope they left time to catch the music scene!]

March 4th and 5th - Collaborative Law Institute of Texas Spring Conference
Presentations include: The Role of Apology and Forgiveness in Collaborative Work, Dealing with Substance Abusers in the Collab Process, Dealing with Client "Extremes" in the Process, Retrofitting your office for collab work, The Concept of Risk in the collab process.

There's also a Pre Conference: March 3rd - "Nuts and Bolts" of Collaborative for Newbies and a Post Conference: March 6th - Liz Ferris will do a day on Marketing Your Collaborative Practice.

For more information and to register:

<http://collablawtexas.com/members/member-communication/events/> or Contact
Linda Solomon, Director <http://www.collabneutral.com/>